DavidLaw Launches Colorado State-Wide Law Practice

David Bush, Experienced Colorado Attorney, Offers Competitive Rates for Legal Services in Business Law, Commercial Disputes and Litigation, Industrial Hemp Regulation and Compliance, Construction Defect Claims, Employment Law and Federal Contract Claims

January 12, 2014 (WHEAT RIDGE, CO) – David Bush, a seasoned attorney with 25 years of experience practicing in Colorado, Wisconsin and Minnesota, launched his new civil law firm, DavidLaw, today with offices based in Wheat Ridge, Colorado. David offers Colorado clients legal assistance in the following practice areas: business planning and business law, commercial disputes and litigation, construction defect claims, employment law, federal contract claims, and industrial hemp regulation and compliance.

David is a member of the American Bar Association, the Colorado Bar Association, the Rocky Mountain Hemp Association, the Hemp Industries Association and the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws (NORML). He also is a long-standing member of the Colorado Defense Lawyers Association, where he founded the construction law section, and served on the board of directors. David is admitted to practice in all state and federal courts in Colorado, as well as in the United States Court of Federal Claims in Washington, DC.

Before launching his own law practice, Bush was a partner at the Denver law firm of Markusson, Green & Jarvis, where for 15 years, he practiced in the areas of construction defect law, personal injury claims and insurance bad faith. Prior to moving to Denver in 1997, he clerked for the Minnesota Court of Appeals in St. Paul, Minnesota. He later found employment as an associate with the law of Robins, Kaplan, Miller & Ciresi in Minneapolis, Minnesota, where he worked in the commercial litigation group, handling disputes involving commercial contracts, franchises, employment and intellectual property cases. David holds a BA in economics from Colgate University, an MS in Agricultural Economics from the University of Arizona and a JD in law from the University of Wisconsin.

DavidLaw offices are located at 4243 Harlan Street, Wheat Ridge, Colorado 80033.
